Where we collect information about you from

The majority of personal information we get directly from you and your activities as a programme member but we may also collect personal information from other sources, namely: 1) our Programme Partners; 2) our Betting Partners, 3) our Racecourse Partners; and 4) social media channels such as Facebook, Google and Twitter.

Do you share my data with other organisations?

Our role is to provide you with the services connected to your membership of the Rewards4Racing programme. We only share your personal information with others if:

- you ask us to or give us your permission to share it;
- it is necessary to track the transactions and collection of Rewards4Racing points through our Programme Partners, our Betting Partners or our Racecourse Partners;
- it is necessary to enable us (or trusted third parties, such as Google, Inc. ("Google")) to analyse how our website is being used by members and to optimise and improve the Rewards4Racing website and our services;
- this is necessary for trusted third parties (for example, a data management and profiling organisation such as Experian) to match your personal information against other information they hold about you - such as age, gender, demographic information, and known interests - and provide that information to us to help us provide the services and improve your experience with the Rewards4Racing programme; or
- we engage in a corporate activity, such as a sale, transfer, merger or re-organisation of the Rewards4Racing's business.

We share personal data with our Racecourse Partners about members who are also customers of those Racecourse Partners, to allow those Racecourse Partners to conduct analysis including by grouping those customers into audience profiles and segments using information around demographics, sport and event preferences and media and social preferences. Please note that information shared for these purposes will not be used to make decisions that produce legal effects concerning you.

In exceptional circumstances, we may share your information without your permission if we reasonably believe you might be breaking the law, for example on hate speech, and such disclosure is allowed under the relevant laws, including Data Protection law.

When we share your data outside of Rewards4Racing we will:

- always share it in a secure way; and
- not permit it to be used for third party marketing purposes.

We also collect, use and share aggregated data such as statistical or demographic data for any purpose. Aggregated data could be derived from your personal data but is not considered personal data in law as this data will not directly or indirectly reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate data on your usage of the Rewards4Racing programme to calculate the percentage of members accessing a specific feature. However, if we combine or connect aggregated data with your personal data so that it can directly or indirectly identify you, we treat the combined data as personal data which will be used in accordance with this privacy policy.

In some circumstances we will anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes, in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you. How do you personalise the experience that I have with the Rewards4Racing programme?

We may use your online browsing behaviour as well as details of your online transactions and engagement activities with our Programme Partners, Betting Partners and Racecourse Partners which will help us better understand you as a member, provide you with personalised offers and services and help us to better meet your needs as a member.

As you may expect, we tailor the communications that you receive based on information and preferences that you have previously provided (such as your favourite retailers) and based on your activities on the Rewards4Racing website, through our Mobile App or on the Points Reminder while signed-in. This is so that we can give you the most relevant and rewarding experience with the programme.

We want to ensure that we provide you with relevant marketing communications relating to the programme and our products and services, as well as those of our Programme Partners, Betting Partners and Racecourse Partners. To achieve this, we may measure the effectiveness of our marketing communications as well as your responses to marketing communications relating to products and services we offer.

Advertising

We may also use your information to provide you with targeted advertising through our website or through third party websites based on information we have collected concerning your preferences.

Will my information be held outside the European Economic Area (EEA)?

Your personal information may be transferred internationally. Sometimes we will need to transfer your information out of the United Kingdom and the EEA, for example, where we work with Google or Facebook to provide you with targeted advertising through our website or through third party websites.

Countries to which we transfer information may have different standards for controlling how your information is used and protected and these standards may not be as strict as those in place in the United Kingdom and EEA. If we transfer your information to a country which does not have data protection laws which offer an adequate level of protection for your information, we will make sure that the organisation which receives your information is a participant in the US Privacy Shield Framework (for more information, please visit the Privacy Shield website), puts in place appropriate safeguards to protect your information, such as standard contractual clauses as adopted by the European Commission from time to time, or otherwise ensure that we can transfer your information in a way that complies with data protection law.

Can I change or delete my data?

Absolutely, you can change the data that we hold on your account or ask us to delete that data at any time.

You can amend the information we hold on you by logging into your account and visiting the 'My Profile' page.

To request for your account to be deleted, you can do this by visiting our Help Centre.

If you choose to close your account, this will erase any personal information that we hold about you. It will mean that any data about how you've used Rewards4Racing will be made anonymous, and any data that has enabled you to collect points will also be anonymised and archived.

Please bear in mind though, once you request to close your account (and have your details deleted), you will lose any points that you have collected should you wish to re-open your account at a later date.

How long will you keep my data for?

If you ask for your Rewards4Racing account to be closed, then your personal information will be deleted from our systems. Please note that any transactional information relating to your account will be anonymised for analytical and business critical process purposes. This information will be archived for 6 years, until it is no longer necessary for us to retain it.
